TIFFANY & Co.

Tiffany & Co. call attention to the facilities of their Correspondence Department for aiding those who live at a distance from New York in the choice of appropriate wedding presents or other gifts. The large variety of Tiffany & Co.'s stock of silverware, clocks, bronzes, jewelry, china, glassware and art objects renders the service of this Department of special value

Tiffany & Co. employ no agents nor do they sell their wares through other dealers. This is an advantage to out-of-town patrons, as it serves to bring them in close contact with the house, and places at their disposal the services of trained men whose experience and knowledge of what is most in favor at the moment assure careful and intelligent selection

Upon advice as to requirements with limit of price Tiffany & Co. will send photographs or full descriptions of what their stock affords. This request involves no obligation to purchase

To patrons known to the house or to those who will make themselves known by satisfactory references, Tiffany & Co. will send for inspection selections from their stock

Intending purchasers will find Tiffany & Co.'s 1909 Blue Book a valuable aid to suggestion. It is a compact catalogue, without illustrations, containing concise descriptions with an alphabetical side index affording quick access to the wide range of Tiffany & Co.'s stock with the minimum and maximum prices at which articles may be purchased

It is the tub that tells the tale of the Shirt.

It is a good tale that it tells of my Two-dollar Ready-to-wear Shirts. They lose nothing in the tub—neither color nor the fraction of an inch. Anderson's Scotch Madras insures that.

The Shirts have all the earmarks of a to-order garment—beaded neckband, reinforced bosom, and true proportions—earmarks which identify a Shirt that is well worth Two-fifty.
